New Numbers With Dial Plan

Cameron will get a new numbering system called the "Metropolitan Numbering Plan" when new dial telephones go into operation next fall, C. L. Carson, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has announced.

At that time, every telephone number in Cameron will be changed to two letters and five numerals. This will conform with a nationwide plan for telephone numbering and will permit faster, more dependable long distance service for Cameron customers, Carson said. Under the new numbering plan a central office name prefix will precede all Cameron telephone numbers. The prefix to be used here is OXford.

Instruction Program
Carson said that another step necessary to make the dial conversion a success will be the instruction program.

"Prior to the conversion we'll notify every customer of what his new telephone number will be. The necessary dialing instructions will be given to all local and rural customers. Additional instructions will be given in newspaper ads, bill inserts, and other printed matter. Special dial demonstrations and films will also be available for showing to schools, church groups, clubs and organizations," he said.

Carson said that new telephone directories containing all the new two-letter, five-numeral numbers will be distributed a few days prior to the changeover.

Dial Center Near

Construction of a new dial building - heart of the city's dial telephone system - is nearing completion.

A crew of specially trained installers from the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, will start installation of the intricate dial equipment.

Telephone lines and cables in many sections of the area also are being rearranged and expanded to meet the needs of the new dial system, Carson said.

Milam Gains One Wildcat, Loses Gus Schram Try

Milam County had one new wildcat scheduled to start in the western part of the county and one failure reported late last week in the same area.

The new deep test is the Dan Harrison, Jr. No. 1 Annabelle Smith and is permitted to 5,500 feet, the San Antonio Express, reported Tuesday.

Location of the wildcat is 11 miles north and northwest of Rockdale. It is on a 243-acre lease in the Abigail Fokes Survey.

This will be the second deep try for Harrison, a Houston oil operator, in this section of the county. Several weeks ago his No. 1 Gus Schram, about 4 miles east of the Smith location, was abandoned at 5420 feet after reportedly encountering a granite formation.

Drilling on the wildcat was under way the latter part of the week. The failure last week was the Knox Miller, Jr. No. 1 Clyde H. Moore, a 1500 foot shallow test located 2 miles north-east of Davilla.

The Moore was dry and abandoned at 1407 feet. Electrical log was run to 1250 feet.

Local Drivers Win Regional Road-e-o

Two of Cameron's district Jaycee driving champions last week racked up first and a tie for second in the regional Safe-driving Teen-age Road-e-o at McGregor.

Curtis Ray Fuchs, second place winner in Cameron, again out-scored teen drivers from Central Texas in placing first in the McGregor event and will go to state Road-e-o driving competition for the second consecutive year.

Young Fuchs, Buckholts High School student, won second in the regional last year and drove in the state finals.

Tying for second in the McGregor contest was William Pagach, from Cameron. He matched driving skills with a Waco entry to gain a second position.

Both youths will enter the State Jaycee Road-e-o finals June 12-13 at Stephenville.

Hal Lester Senkel, winner of the Cameron driving contest in April, failed to place in the regional competition, according to Jaycee officials.

Winners at the state contest will compete in the national event in Washington, D. C. for college scholarships ranging from $2,500 and less.

Jaycee President John Schigut said that Cameron Jaycees would continue coaching the two state finalists on the local Road-e-o course prior to the contest.

"If we can refine their driving and safety knowledge just a bit more," Schigut said, "I believe the boys will surprise Milam Countyans with the results. They have the desire and ability to go all the way."

Membership Drive

ETC Meets Here

East Texas Chamber executives asked for assistance to support their "plan of action" last week in a membership meeting at Cameron Country Club.

Cameron Chamber of Commerce officials and directors hosted the 12-county conference of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. It was the first meeting of the group in Cameron.

ETC President Bob Smith told of the need to raise an additional $25,000 for the new budget to conduct a 15-point program developed by the 33-year-old East Texas civic organization.

Challenged Business
He challenged the business leaders to support the group representing development of East Texas resources in a period when Texas labor unions raise $15 million annually in dues.

ETC Manager Fred Pool listed the program of the group which included 15 specific objectives for action in the East Texas area, which includes 71 counties and about 4.2 million Texans.

Pool noted East Texas manufacturing gains compared to the rest of Texas. He said that 32 new industries had located in this area in the past two months while 16 had been located in the remainder of the state.

Delegates from several Texas cities rose to speak on particular problems affecting the economy of Central Texas. Belton Mayor Roy Sanderford, described the federal farm program as socialistic and dangerous to the American way of life.

A cotton grower from Williamson County asked that the business leaders get busy and work with their representatives in Washing-

Regional Title Goes To Marlin For Homemaking

WACO—Mrs. George B. LeNoir, a Marlin homemaker whose favorite recipe is German chocolate cake, won the South Texas Regional finals of the 1959 Mrs. America contest, held last week in the Raleigh Hotel. Lone Star Gas Company sponsored the local contest. Madison Clement, Waco major, crowned the winner.

Mrs. Ed Mikeska, Rogers, represented the Cameron District.

Mrs. LeNoir now enters the state finals to be conducted May 29 in the Lone Star auditorium in Dallas, where she will compete with nine other Texas homemakers.

A native of Megargel, Texas, Mrs. LeNoir has been a Texas resident for 30 years. She lists sewing as the phase of housekeeping she likes best. The hazel-eyed redhead is five feet, four inches tall and weighs 128 pounds. She is a graduate of Clarksville High School and attended Draughton's Business College, Dallas.

Competing against her in the Waco finals were Mrs. O. M. Ramsay and Mrs. Claud D. Kincannon Jr., Waco; Mrs. Vernie H. Stringer, Hillsboro; Mrs. Richard J. Hesse, McGregor; Mrs. Charles H. Rainfall Totals 1.48 Inches Here

Rainfall during the past seven days in Cameron totaled 1.48 inches and raised the water table even higher in the Milam County area.

Official city rain gauges noted the following rainfall: May 21, .03; May 23, 1.22 and May 25, .23 inches.

Heaviest rainfall in the area was at Rogers where a reported five-inch downpour fell over the week end.

Reports said that Elm Creek was out over the week end, but Little River did not reach any flood stage.

Crops continued to make good headway with the week end rains, agriculturalist said.

Widening Project Lengthens Streamlined US 77 - SH 36 Way

Workmen are putting the finishing touches on East Fourth St. (US 77 - SH 36) today after almost five months of work on the .65 mile four-lane road.

It completes Cameron's first four-lane road, extending the four-lane thoroughfare (SH 36) from the west city limits through Cameron to the Santa Fe underpass in East Cameron.

The City of Cameron saved a budgeted $12,000 for curbing and guttering this spring when the state assumed responsibility of that phase of construction.

And civic and city officials note the project's completion marks about 12 years of working time in finalizing the widening program.

3 Days Surfacing
Blacktop asphalt surfacing equipment laid the surface in about three days. Contractor is BHC Materials, Temple.

Contractor workmen will complete touch up work at intersections this week end. Asphalt topping has been laid into intersecting streets about 30 feet from the main highway.

Grading work has continued around the underpass and on east where the roadway narrows to two lanes.

Completion of the project marks the latest street improvement in Cameron during the past months.

Workmen this week were clearing the way for installation of curb and gutter and paving on E. 10th St. and paving on 12 blocks of N. Jackson. The north-south artery has been graded for paving.

And city officials were planning to complete right-of-way approval with Sixth Street property owners for paving of about two miles of the east-west street in the near future.

Other Construction
The US 77 widening project has brought construction of a new restaurant-service station, remodeling of Mack's Oil Co., and plans for remodeling fronts of other businesses along the route.

Workmen were also emplacing sidewalks and intersection curbing torn out by widening the old lanes.

And Cameron has completed a key project in its drive for good streets and highways, officials said.

Council To Host Open House Fri. At City Plants

The City of Cameron is hosting an open house all day Friday at the new city water and filtration plant in east Cameron.

Mayor Bassel Wilson and Councilmen Richard Moseley, Lincoln Mondrik, Roy Griffith, Sam Houston and Hayden Lawrence will greet visitors at the $400,000 plus project sites.

Cameron two weeks ago erected "state approved" water signs following official approval of the new water plant and system by the State Board of Health.

Officials said refreshments would be served at the two plants.

Cameronites will have their first official opportunity to view the city's new water plant, sewage filtration plant, Little River Pump Station and other facilities.

"We urge Cameron residents to visit these facilities," Wilson said. "Their completion marks a milestone in Cameron progress that every city must reach if it is to grow."

The new water plant has facilities to handle a population of about 15,000. Alvin Heftt, city water superintendent said.

Cotton Sets Pace For Farming Year

By J. D. Moore

Cotton crops look good with very little insect damage reported. Most of the cotton is up to a good stand, free of weeds and grass and is growing at a rapid rate. Fleas that feed on the tiny squares are due to appear within the next two weeks and farmers are cautioned to be on the alert for these insects in order to apply insecticides before damage is done.

Corn prospects are good. The crop has a good color, is growing at a rapid rate with adequate moisture conditions at present to put the crop into good silk and tasselling stage. Some tasselling is reported in early corn. Another good rain during the first half of June will assure an excellent crop.

Maize is good, bad and indifferent this year but generally the crop is improving rapidly. The poor showing of the maize crop is due to the continued cold, damp soil at planting time and insect damage. The standard varieties such as 7078 and Plainsman did not germinate as well as the hybrids resulting in poor stands and replanting of the crop in many areas. The Temple Experiment Station reports that prospects for a maize crop from plantings made in May are very poor. We hope this year will have an exception because we have a lot of maize planted in May in Milam County. The reason for the Experiment Station opinion is due to the Sorghum midge, a tiny maggot like insect that feeds on the late maize head as the seeds heads are forming.

Pecans have set a good crop and every indication point to a good crop this year. Bud worm and casebearers have not done the damage that occurred last year. Growers should not relax because of this condition because the casebearers came out late last year and damaged most trees after they had been sprayed to prevent the insects. No appreciable nut casebearer damage was noted this week. The trees should be closely observed for insect damage.

Chinch Bug Demonstration
Clifford Anyell apparently got the chinch bugs under control in his maize by spraying with 1 quart of Dieldrin and 1 pint of Parathion per acre.

The insects were very active before the application. Two days after the application, very little activity was noted and the maize was making a recovery.

Inspection Tour
The farmers of the Thorndale community held a field tour on May 25 with the county agent in an effort to learn to identify harmful and beneficial insects in cotton fields. This is considered one of the best methods of assisting farmers with their cotton insect problems. The agent is always available to assist groups of farmers with their insect problems.

A cotton insect meeting was well attended at the Thorndale Vo-Ag building last week. Slides were shown by the county agent explaining the identification and control of cotton insects.

He added that customers can continue to pay electric bills at the business office on Saturday by using the pay-box located at the front door. The TP&L office heretofore has remained open until noon each Saturday.

Egg Producers View Factors In Price Drop

COLLEGE STATION—Egg Producers are much concerned about the current low prices being paid for their product and future improvement.

Extension Economist John G. McHaney says that at least eight basic factors are involved in the present situation, both from the price standpoint and future improvement.

He lists them as total production, number of layers in the nation, rate of lay, hatchery production, weather conditions, number of flock replacements bought, storage stocks and long range changes that develop in the production and marketing of eggs.

Egg production for the 1959 January-March period in the nation was six per cent over the same 1958 period. In Texas, the increase was 14 per cent. Egg prices in Texas for the first quarter of 1959 averaged about 11 per cent below those for the same month a year ago.

April prices dropped 24 per cent below those for the same month in 1958. The rate of lay in the nation is up four per cent and number of layers three per cent.

McHaney said that production of egg-type chicks in the nation for the first quarter of 1959 was only period in 1958 but smaller hatches slightly higher than for the same year in prospect for May. The large hatch during the last half of 1958 is largely responsible for the present egg supply and will help maintain the large number of layers in late 1959, he said.

The long-time outlook for eggs, believes McHaney, will most likely be influenced by the steady growth and widespread use of risk sharing plans by poultry producers. Many commercial firms guarantee the poultry producer profits amounting to 4 to 6 cents per dozen.

Margaret Helpert To Receive Degree

Egg Futures?

The long-time outlook for eggs, believes John G. McHaney, extension economist, will most likely be influenced by the steady growth and widespread use of risk sharing plans by poultry producers. The degree to which these will influence what happens in the next few years to egg production and marketing practices.

The next meeting will be tonight,

Use Insecticides For Highest Increase In Cotton Production

COLLEGE STATION—U. S. Cotton growers would pay an annual toll to cotton insects amounting to almost 1 pound of seed-cotton for every 30 pounds they produce without modern insecticides to combat them, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

More than 20 years of research by entomologists of U. S. D. A.'s Agricultural Research Service, in cooperation with the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, show that although the percentage of production increase varies somewhat with the use of insecticides, more cotton has always been produced on treated plots.

Field trials at the ARS Cotton Insects Research Laboratory, Waco, show an average annual seed-cotton yield of 1,049 per cent, more cotton than the average annual total produced on untreated plots.

The experiments show that, since the advent of modern organic insecticides to control cotton pests, yield gains have averaged 53 per cent. Before 1945, when growers depended upon inorganic insecticides such as arsenicals and sulphur, yield increases amounted to about 34 per cent annually.

Highest production on treated plots and the greatest increase over untreated plots occurred in 1955 when treated plots produced 1,461 pounds of seed-cotton per acre as compared with only 778 pounds on untreated plots.

Since 1939, when the Cotton Insects Laboratory was established at Waco, tests have been conducted to compare production on plots treated with new insecticides, with standard insecticides, and plots receiving no pest control treatment.

Only a few irrigated plots were involved in the study and those were analyzed during the last three years.

Knights of Columbus Plan Family Picnic

Cameron Knights of Columbus Council 2338 met recently for their regular meeting.

Plans were made by the council to hold their family picnic June 7. It was also stated that the picnic would be basket style and there will be recreation for the children.

The next meeting will be tonight,

Grasshoppers Infest Rangeland, Crops

COLLEGE STATION — Every year grasshoppers destroy crops in some parts of the State. During severe outbreaks, the losses run into millions of dollars.

About 5 million acres of rangeland was infested with grasshoppers in the Panhandle area of Texas in 1958.

Of the infested rangeland only about one million acres was sprayed, leaving four million acres of infested land that received no control. Valuing the grass destroyed at the figure of $1.25 per acre, ranchmen in the Panhandle alone lost about five million dollars worth of grass. Most of the grass could have been saved at a nominal average cost of about sixty cents per acre by spraying at the proper time.

As an aid to farmers and ranchmen, entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have prepared a leaflet titled, "Grasshoppers Common to Texas".

The leaflet discusses the different species of grasshoppers found in Texas and their identifying characteristics. Also included is a discussion of the life cycle of grasshoppers from the time the females lay the eggs to maturity.

This leaflet can be obtained from your local county agent along with the information on best control measures, or by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-429.

Dairy Industry

Cites June Fete

College Station — Look to the Milky Way!

This theme highlights the U. S. Department of Agriculture's support of June Dairy Month.

The campaign is built around "a galaxy of dairy dishes" designed to generate increased sales of milk, cream and cheeses, according to the Texas Extension Service.

June Dairy Month is a major national event during which Texas dairymen and other members of the industry join forces to get more dairy foods into hands of consumers.

HELPING MAINTAIN A HEALTHY AGRICULTURAL ECONOMY

Time was when the old hand pump provided the only water on the farm. But, today, thanks to electricity almost every farm has a good water supply with modern electrically powered pumps.

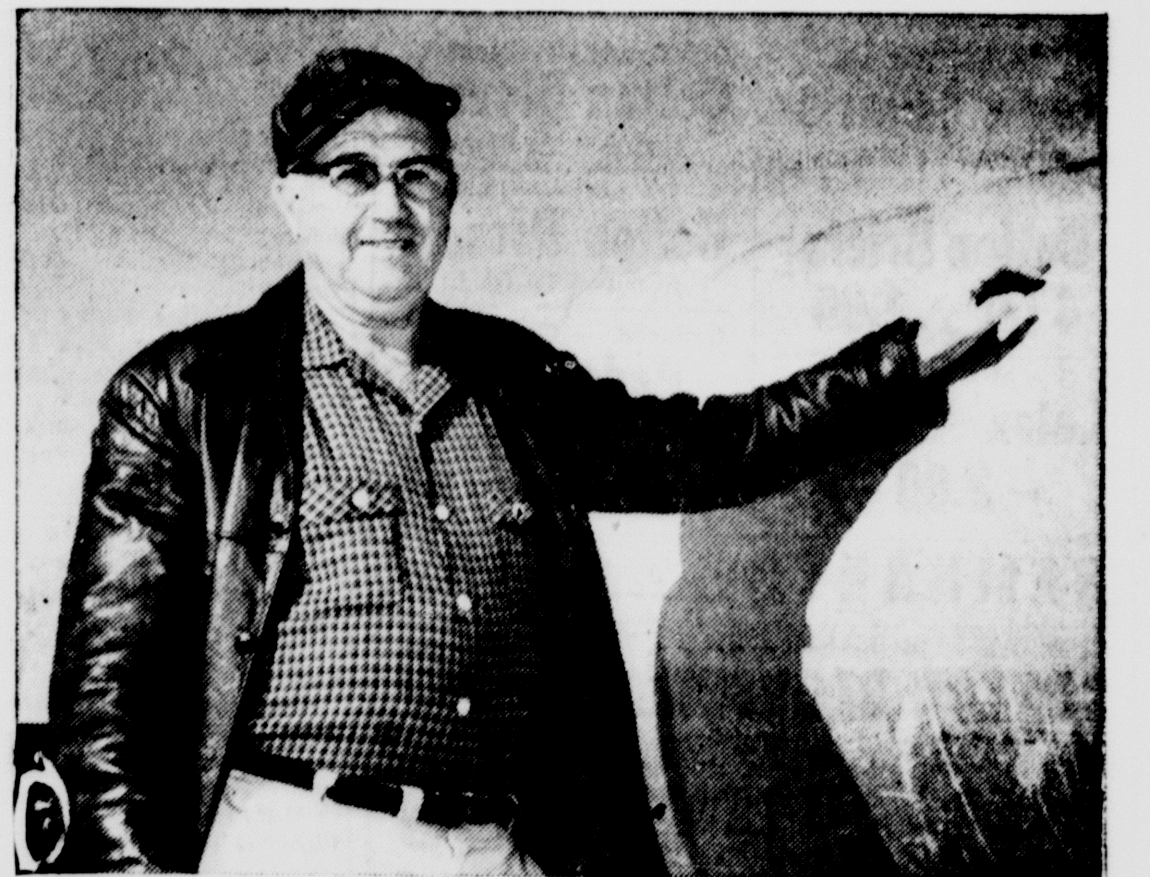

TP&L's industrial and agricultural development programs give assistance to farmers and livestock raisers in developing new and better ways of farming and in establishing new industry in this area to expand markets for farm products. As a business-managed, tax-paying public utility, this Company pledges continued support to the area it serves... actively co-operating with both private and public agencies toward developing end uses for agricultural products, as well as improving farming methods.

This Company has continually expanded its service to rural as well as urban areas. An example of free enterprise at work, TP&L's expansion has all been with private funds. In contrast, more than 5 billion dollars of federal money has already been spent on public power projects. It is estimated that almost 4 billion dollars more will be required to complete federal power projects now under construction or authorized. If all present proposals are carried out, the total additional federal funds required will approximate 10 billion dollars. It is alarming that such a large amount of the nation's power needs are being supplied by agencies largely exempt from taxes and bonded or subsidized by your tax dollars.

Ammonia produces top yields in cotton, corn and maize

Tony Pizalate, successful Texas farmer, says: "I'm sold on Phillips 66 Ammonia. Since starting to use it on irrigated land, I'm getting an average of 2 bale cotton; my maize yields have been increased about 2000 pounds to the acre, and I'm averaging about 20 more bushels of corn. As a matter of fact, I'm going to give my corn a heavier planting, to take advantage of the ammonia and further increase the yield. I apply Phillips 66 Ammonia both pre-plant and as a side dressing, according to the crop and soil condition."

Other successful Texas farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are boosted through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied by you or your distributor. See us today about your supply of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Are Our Economics Moral?

A striking parallel in the cost of government and socialized living can be drawn from annual operating costs at state and national levels.

Statistics from the office of state comptroller of public accounts, Austin, show the increases of Texas' operating costs due to bursting growth, dollar inflation and a tremendous upsurge in state spending since World War II.

At the same time, we find comparative figures from the Treasury Department of the U. S. that express supersonic national debt, bulging bureaucracy and random sampling of the taxpayer's dollar.

We think it interesting to note the astounding rapidity with which the state of Texas has expanded its budget. For instance, the cost of state government from 1921 to 1929, the year of the Crash, increased $17.2 millions, starting from $67.2 millions and growing to $84.4 millions.

Parallel a similar nine-year period from 1949 to 1958, Texas government was operating under a budget of $443.7 millions in 1949 and found its tax coffers committed to 1958's total of $1.02 billions.

It is conceded that inflation of the dollar occurred in the post-Korean period, but inflation was strong in the epic "Roaring '20's".

On the national level, we find that the United States budget in 1920 was about $18 billions and now has increased to $77 billions. The 1920 figure followed World War I spending while the present budget is down some $20 billions from the peak spending of World War II. The national debt is $280 billions.

Economic experts can name numerous causes for the burgeoning government budgets: population increase, hot war, cold war, tremendous productivity, demand for public services.

Yet another cause, usually unrelated to economics, must be recognized . . . moral crisis.

It is becoming vogue to tap the "endless resources" of the U. S. for protection, stability and handouts. Seldom is it we recognize the individual seeking real self-improvement . . . we say he is naive for going his own way. We are lulled by over-protection that weakens the individual's moral fibre, reduces him to socialized anonymity.

And so we see bureaucracy mushroom to feed these incapacities . . . we see politicians voting further social legislation to curry the favor of their constituents . . . we see mediocrity perpetuated to aid the "weak."

This is a terrible price to pay for soaring governmental debts. Were it dollars alone, it would be bad enough. But to see the morass of the "organization man" grow in line with the climbing cost of government, this is disaster.

How much longer can we bludgeon our international leadership by indenturing generations to come in social complacency and public debt?

Dollars have become our national success symbols. And we are spending ourselves to economic and moral decay.

Neglects His Farm While He Talks
About Children's TV Shows

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I brought home from town earlier in the day because it was wrapped around a pair of shoes I'd had half-soled, the national P. T. A. is up in arms over the type of television programs the children of this country are watching.

"It's high time we stopped talking about the 13-year-old mentality of the average American," a leader complained, saying television is making a mistake in assuming its programs have to be planned on that level. She added that the way to improve the programs is to have parents select their kids' shows. Make em stop looking at bad ones.

Now I'm no expert on television programs, but it's not clear to me how a parent is going to decide a program is all right until it's too late. I mean, unless you know in advance a program is bad for children, then half way through the thing, right when the bullets are flying, is no time to shut it off. Maybe some parents can walk into a room in the middle of a blood-thirsty TV show watched spell-bound by a bunch of kids and get by with it, but I don't know very many.

Understand, I don't have the answer. It's true most television programs I've watched are about as interesting as watching the cloth es swirl around behind the glass door in an automatic washing machine, but I may have tuned in at the wrong time. When you're using a neighbor's T.V. set, you can't sit glued to it all the time.

Still, I believe if I was in the television business, I'd hate to have the P.T.A. after me.

On the whole, though, I have a notion that children will triumph over television, instead of the other way around. Some television programs may be bad for them, but so are grown-ups.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Failure To Raise Money Criticized

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—There's a "get on with it" mood among House members during this special session.

House was the target of some criticism after the regular session for having made almost no progress in money-raising.

This session the House began processing money bills at a fast clip. Initial action indicated there was less opposition in the House to Gov. Price Daniel's tax program than during the regular session.

Many in the lower house seemed to be in a mood to get as much as possible over to the senate and "let them worry with it a while." Then, if the finance problem still isn't solved at the end of this session, they hope people won't be saying that the House "sat on its hands again."

Senate attitude toward the various money-raising approaches is largely an unknown quantity. No money-raising bill ever came to a vote in the Senate — either in committee or on the floor — during the regular session.

Debt-Paying Bills

Three bills recommended by Governor Daniel to wipe out the $65,000,000 state deficit received first legislative attention. These measures are:

1. "Bookkeeping bill" designed to let $28,000,000 off the Aug. 31 deficit by crediting certain money to this year instead of next year.

2. One-year increase in the corporation franchise tax to bring in $17,000,000. Sponsor Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston called it "a donation by Texas business" toward bailing out state government.

3. Abandoned property act, to transfer to the State Treasury, funds unclaimed for seven years. Estimates vary as to how much it would bring in; sponsors say about $20,000,000 the first year, $2,500,000 a year thereafter. It was re-written after its defeat last session, but bankers still aren't happy.

First two of these bills received quick House approval.

Governor's Permanent Program

To cover new money needs for the next two years, the governor is pushing a separate tax program, a "package bill" known as H.B. 7.

It would raise an estimated $161,000,000 in two years.

Affected by the bill would be (1) natural gas, with a reduction from 7 to 5 per cent in production tax and addition of 5 per cent "severance beneficiary" tax, (2) interstate corporations, with a new and complex taxation formula, (3) utility companies, with an increase in the gross receipts tax, (4) cigarettes, one cent per package more, (5) other tobacco products, except snuff, to be added to sales tax fold, (6) liquor, increase from $1,408 (correct) to $2.50 a gallon sales tax, (7) automobiles, with sales tax increase from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola is sponsoring the bill.

In the past weeks the governor has been making a vigorous round of conferences and talks, rounding up support for his program. He launched it before the Legislature with a speech pouring fire and brimstone on the heads of lobbyists. He accused the "third house of causing expensive delays.

Other Tax Bills
As in the regular session, there is no lack of ideas for raising money.

Reportable Diseases

Reportable diseases in Milam County for the past week according to Milam County's Health Department and acting director T. C. Crump, M.D. are as follows:

Thirty-five cases of strept throat
4 cases of measles, 2 syphilis, 2 pneumonia and one Gonorrhea.

Besides the governor's bills, these have been proposed:

1. One per cent tax on all manufactured goods, by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla. To bring in an estimated $200,000,000 annually. Businesses grossing less than $25,000 annually would be exempt.

2. 1.5 per cent general sales tax, by Rep. Frates S. Seeligson of San Antonio. Food, feed and fertilizer would be exempt.

3. One per cent tax on retail sales, one per cent on personal income and three per cent on corporate income, by Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland.

4. Five per cent tax on corporation net profits, by Rep. Dean Johnson of Houston.

5. Five per cent tax on trading stamps, by Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs.

6. Graduated oil tax, by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston.

atching catfish on a trotline is thing, but taking them on a e and line, or on a rod and l, is something else.
I've talked about trotlining I have touched on other ways catching fish, but here is some tional speculation about these n that you can add to your store information.
All this is going on the assum- p that the more you know about hing, the more you're going to tch. So you go out, loaded to the hald spot with piscatorial lore. Texas has given catfishing a boy with cheeks of tan, and a worm you get skunked.

Or your wife outfishes you. Or some guy who came along for the ride is the one who furnishes meat for the frying pan.
Yep, it happens sometimes. But over the long haul, a guy who knows his fish and fishing is the one who gets the prizes.
Some years back, catfishing was a game strictly for trotliners and for the pole and line fishermen. But now, the sport is gaining favor as game fishing.
If you want to snag a big fish on a rod and reel, in fresh water, the catfish is as good a bet as any.
You can go for carp, but there are many who (wrongly) consider carp inedible.
You can try for gars and they come in king sizes, but they really are no good for eating.
There's many an ardent angler who doesn't eat fish. He fishes for the sport. But it's likely that for most fishermen, the pleasure of eating what they catch adds to the enjoyment of the trip. I belong to the latter school myself. I want to take something home for dinner, if possible.
So, all considered, the catfish is the best bet for the fresh water sportsman who wants to bring in a big, edible fish. Best of all, there's no limit as to how many the fisherman can catch and keep.
Construction of power dams in boost. When power is being generated, the turbines stun or kill thousands of bait fish, amounting to a giant chumming operation. Below the dams, catfish never had it so good.
If you want catfish, the waters below such a dam are good hunting territory. However, if there is no such dam near you, don't fish in nearly every river, creek, pond, and lake in Texas.

You should know about the three main kinds of catfish in Texas. They all look and taste pretty much alike, but there is a little difference in the way you fish for them.
Much has been said about "stink" bait. And especially about the smelly things that a catfish will eat.
It's all true, except that the yellow cat would prefer his food fresh and alive. If it's yellow cat you're after, a small, live bream, not more than two and one-half inches long, or a big minnow, would be your best choice.
It's the blue and the channel catfish that want their food ripe and odorous, with exceptions. They will go for fresh chicken entrails, or a fresh shad that has been mashed in two, and sometimes—fairly often, that is—blues and the channels will go for live bait.
So you see, there's no rigid rule in these matters. In fact, the right procedure when you go catfishing is to carry along a variety of bait. If they don't take one, maybe they'll go for another.
Rig up your fishing equipment with a 1-0 long shank hook at the bottom, and a sinker about twelve inches above it. The weight of the sinker depends on the kind of tackle you are using. Above the sinker add a slip bobber. This, so you can regulate the depth where you think the cats are lurking. Put on your first choice of bait, and go to work.
As to depth, try the bottom first. That's where catfish are most of the time. If you don't get any business down deep, move on up into the shallower parts of the water.

"Such language! No wonder the Herald Want Ads Call them STORM windows!"

Give your bait a long cast. Let it sink to the bottom and rest there for a minute or two. Then start a slow retrieve. When I say slow, I mean S-L-O-W. Turn the crank half a turn and wait awhile. Hum two bars of "Dixie" and give her another half turn. And so on like that.
It will take some time to retrieve if you're doing it right.
Fishing on the bottom like this, you're going to hang up once in while and lose your rig. But that's the way it goes. You can help the situation by the way you bait up. Covering the hook with bait, so that the point is not exposed protects you somewhat against hooking a rock or a submerged log.
It protects you somewhat— and that's all. Of course, you can save hooks, line and sinker, by fishing shallow all the time—with a bobber that lets your bait go down only about three feet. And you might catch some fish that way. But if the catfish are on the bottom all you get is a suntan.

Another way to save hanging up is to let the bait alone, once you have cast it out there. You can catch more if the bait moves a little bit once in awhile.
I know this from my own experience. I have been fishing with a buddy who always keeps his bait rest on the bottom, lean back. While he is doing this, I let my bait rest on the bottom, lean back and enjoy life.
He lands three fish to my one. So, if it's fish you want, keep your hand on that rod and reel. But do have patience, you need it for all kinds of fishing. But you need it especially for catfishing. Console yourself if nothing happens in the first hour or two. You are going to catch catfish after a while. If not this trip, then the next, providing, of course, that you have selected a place where catfish are.

And as we said before, catfish are almost everywhere.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

"TEXAS JOHN" DUVAL

Historian of the Fighting Times

John Crittenden Duval, Kentucky gentleman and Texas' first man of letters, was one of three brothers... a soldier, a jurist and a writer... all of whom served the Republic and the State of Texas with honor and distinction. In 1835 the 19-year-old John joined his brother, Captain Burr H. Duval and his company of "Kentucky Mustangs" to fight with Texans against Mexico. The brothers were with Fannin's army when it surrendered to Mexican General Urrea. In the Goliad Massacre on Palm Sunday, 1836, Captain Burr was killed but "Texas John" escaped... to live in and write about the wilderness places and to become the lifelong friend of Bigfoot Wallace. They were Texas Rangers together, in Jack Hays' company. Although opposed to secession, Duval joined the Confederate Army as a private, refusing a commission.

But it is not as a fighter that Duval rendered his greatest service to Texas.

Texas Division, United States Brewers Foundation, 206 VFW Building, Austin, Texas

His importance lies in his writings... "Early Times in Texas," first published in 1867, "Young Explorers," for boys. And his greatest work, "The Adventures of Bigfoot Wallace, Texas Ranger and Hunter." The cause of freedom in the Southwest was strengthened and recorded for history by "Texas John."

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland... "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Story Of Cameron Business Leadership

Robinson's Texaco For Service

Since going into the service station business in 1930, W. A. L. Robinson has offered a complete auto service that rates his company's motto, "everything for the car."

And that is what Robinson offers today for motorists who are served by his competent staff of four at his Texaco Service Station, 115 N. Fannin, Cameron.

A dealer in many name-brand auto accessories and equipment, Robinson prides himself in offering the public personalized pickup and delivery service as an added feature of his well-known road service.
Chief among his many name-brand auto services is the sale of B. F. Goodrich tires and batteries for every make of car, tractor, or truck. He points out he stocks a complete line of vehicle tires and tubes for anything from a wheelbarrow to road machinery.

"Our name-brand sales include Dupont plastic car accessories, Fram filters, AC ignition products and a host of other popular brand auto items," Robinson says.
"And our auto road service is complete, including lube, wash battery charging, wheel packing and all other extras to make our road service second to none," he emphasizes.
A veteran group of service station personnel headed by Station Manager Monroe Corbin provides the motorist satisfaction plus in care of his automobile. They have a total of 29 years service with Robinson.

Besides Manager Corbin there are Billy Scarbrough with three years experience; Douglas Moore with 13 years and Leonard Winn with 2 years. Corbin has been at Robinson's for 11 years.
"We feel that 29 years in the service station business gives us the experience to know what motorists want and need in auto care and maintenance," Robinson says.

Stedman Co. Ford Tractors Are Dependable

You get power you can depend on with Ford Powermaster tractors available at Stedman Tractor Co., Cameron, according to H. H. Stedman, agency owner.

Stedman points out that his tractor agency features sales and service on all Ford tractors and field equipment and New Holland balers, rakes and mowers.

His company also handles the famous Maytag gas range, washers, dryers and conventional washers. Another product well-known for its efficient operation, Stedman says, is Toro Lawnmowers.

"We have operated a Ford tractor agency since 1946 on the basis of fair price on all our farm equipment, good trade-in allowances on used equipment and the best Ford farm equipment repair in Central Texas."

Smith Manages Agency

Hugh Smith has managed Stedman Tractor since it was opened. The agency was moved to its present location, First and North Central, a short time after it was established in Cameron after World War II.

"Stedman Tractor also has excellent service personnel in Leroy Barkemeyer, our service manager and Herman Reineke, tractor mechanic. Barkemeyer has 10 years of experience while Reineke has about seven," Stedman says.

BEST Prescription Service

Earl Curtis, owner of New Cameron Drug, points with pride at his outstanding prescription center where complete, fresh supply of anti-biotics and drugs are always available.

New Cameron's prescription service also includes direct lines to doctors offices for fast, efficient prescription service when time is of utmost importance, and registered pharmacists.

Curtis, a graduate of the School of Pharmacy at the University of Texas has received national awards for his merchandising and pharmaceutical work from Rexall Drug Co., drug distributors. They include a plaque for outstanding merchandising in drug business and a copy of an ancient mortar and pestle of the early 15th century.

An exclusive feature at New Cameron Drug is their Milam Voucher Plan.

"Premium vouchers may be earned with any purchase at New Cameron Drug," Curtis says, "and a list of the gifts with the amount of premiums needed are available at the store." He adds, "Buy at home - save at home - and get prepared drugs with the famous Rexall label and a wide line of gift items. Rexall products are nationally advertised, Curtis points out.

Babe Ruth League Season Opens, First Game Tuesday

Cameron's Babe Ruth League season got the ball rolling Tuesday night as the first game of the season was played under the lights. Officials and coaches were well pleased with the attendance at the game and considered it the best opening game in the League's two year history.

The game that went 10 innings was highlighted not only by sparkling play but with the addition of a loudspeaker that was operated by President Eldon Batte and a concession stand furnished by the Coca Cola Bottling Company.

The league for boys aged 13 through 15 was originally known as the PONY League in 1957. It was then under the direction of Wayne Mann. The league consisted of three teams, 2 from Cameron and one from Rosebud.

Last year the Rosebud team was cut out and an additional Cameron team was added called the Owls.

This year Eldon Batte has taken over as president. The school dropped completely out of the league in the financing department.

The members of the three teams are selling membership tickets to the league in order to raise money for equipment. The tickets also serve as a pass to all the games and sell for a dollar each.

It's quite encouraging to see what the people of Cameron can do in aiding the city's youth. There couldn't have been a better example of this than the one that confronted us during the past two weeks when the Cameron School announced they would not support the Summer Recreation Program as they have in the past.

Right off the bat a meeting was called by Babe Ruth League president Eldon Batte. At this meeting managers turned up and were selected to teams for the coming season. Batte also acquired a loudspeaker to be used in broadcasting the games at the field. The local Coca Cola Bottling Company will furnish a refreshment stand that will be used at the games and operated by the coaches of the teams on alternate nights or possibly by their wives, proving that everyone is willing to lend a hand. Cameron's Radio station KMIL, will also give the leagues full coverage during the day.

Next fears football players signed up under Coach Speer the past week for helmet and uniform fittings. According to Speer practice will start for next season two weeks before school starts on the 17th of August.

The first game will be with West here on September 4. The Yoe will play 6 games on home grounds and 4 away.

Rodney Folschinsky, senior, went to the state meet in Austin a couple of weeks ago to participate in the 440 yard dash.

Cameron's public swimming opened last Friday 3:45 under Snooks Michalka's direction. Another summer pastime started Tuesday a week ago when the miniature golf course opened at the Bowling Alley. Price is 25 cents a game.

TCU Students Help Paint Pythian Home

Members of the Cameron Pythians Lodge are among sponsors of the Texas Pythian Home which was the scene of a redecoration program by students from Texas Christian University.

Members of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity joined in painting the Pythian Home Boys Scout room at the Weatherford home.

Workmaster Mike Davis led the delegation from TCU in painting the room for the Home.

The activity was cited recently in the Texas Pythian newspaper, published by the Pythian Lodge of Texas.

The contingent of TCU students was congratulated on the work that saved the Pythian home hundreds of dollars and redecored the much-used Scout room.
